

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A process for fabricating a semiconductor structure comprises depositing a nitride layer on a semiconductor substrate with a first tool, and depositing an anti-reflective layer on the semiconductor substrate with the first tool. The nitride layer includes silicon and nitrogen.